AIMS OF THE DOCUMENT

The aims of this document are to:

- define the structure of the programme;
- specify the programme award titles;
- identify programme and level learning outcomes;
- articulate the regulations governing the awards defined within the document.

AIMS OF THE PROGRAMME

In keeping with the QAA Benchmarks for Social Work (QAA 20116, section 7) this programme aims to develop social work graduates with a professional qualification in social work, who must be able to demonstrate:-

- “a sound understanding of the five core areas of knowledge and understanding relevant to social work (social work theory; values and ethics; service users and carers; the nature of social work practice and the organization and delivery of social work services) including their application to practice and service delivery
- an ability to use this knowledge and understanding in an integrated way, in specific practice contexts
- an ability to use this knowledge and understanding to engage in effective relationships with service users and carers and relationships with other professionals and through supervision
- appraisal of previous learning and experience and ability to incorporate this into their future learning and practice, including engagement with supervision
- acknowledgement and understanding of the potential and limitations of Social Work as a practice-based discipline to effect individual and social change
- an ability to use research and enquiry techniques with reflective awareness, to collect, analyse and interpret relevant information
- a developed capacity for the critical evaluation of knowledge and evidence from a range of sources.

They must also

- apply creatively a repertoire of core skills of problem-solving; communication; working with others; personal and professional development and the use of technology and numerical skills.
- communicate effectively with service users and carers, and with other professionals
- integrate clear understanding of ethical issues and relevant codes or standards of ethics, conduct and practice with their interventions in specific situations
- consistently exercise an appropriate level of autonomy and initiative in individual
- decision-making within the context of supervisory, collaborative, ethical and organisational requirements
- embed skills of critical reflection on their performance and take responsibility for modifying action and learning in light of this.”

Qualifying social work degrees aim to develop students as social scientists, professionals and qualified practitioners, through the integration of subject-specific knowledge, values and skills.

The development of this programme responds to the continuing need for highly qualified social work practitioners regionally and nationally and has been developed with employers and other key stakeholders or partners in mind, including students, professional bodies, government departments and those people who receive or require social work services. Consultation events to inform the curriculum have been held with programme partners/employers and with current students, and their helpful and constructive feedback has been integrated into the development of the programme.

Programme Specification - Section 2

The programme meets our duties as an education provider for social work in accordance with Social Work England's Professional Standards and Standards for Education and Training. The revision of this programme also incorporates the Social Work Professional Capabilities Framework (BASW). The programme also meets the QAA subject benchmark (2012) for the provision of social work education. The programme is designed to ensure that those people who will use social work services in the future are served by highly skilled and well-educated practitioners. The programme encourages academic rigour and evidence-based practice in the form of practitioner research in the practice of social work, recognising the complexities and multiple aspects of evidence in social work practice (see Pawson et al., 2003).

As the MA Social Work award is linked to registration with Social Work England and provides the professional qualification to practice as a social worker, the non-qualifying awards will be entitled Social Studies in order to differentiate these from the qualifying award, acknowledging protection of the title Social Worker, under the Care Standards Act 2000.

There is the fullest possible involvement of service users and carers in the recruitment of students, the management of the programme, its assessment and quality assurance of the programme as required by Social Work England

In the qualifying social work programmes, there is no conceptual separation between learning and teaching on placement and learning and teaching in the university. Each aspect informs the other and university learning will enable students to demonstrate social work capabilities: the values, skills and knowledge in practice and the integration of theory in practice.

ALIGNMENT WITH THE UNIVERSITY'S STRATEGIC PLAN

The Faculty of Health and Social Sciences aims 'to support students to become graduates and professional practitioners who in turn will enrich the lives of individuals and communities in their care.'

The suite of qualifying social work programmes in HSS are designed to align with the current strategic plan and with BU2025. The Fusion model of integrating research, education and professional practice is demonstrated by the interests of the programme team and of the students participating in these programmes. For example, the programme team are research active and publish in themes relating to social work practice and social work education; the curriculum is informed by current research and evidence-based practice; and team members hold professional qualifications in social work practice and in teaching and supporting learning in higher education. The programme team are engaged in pedagogic innovations, including the active participation of people who use services in recruitment, delivery and assessment of learning and in PIER partnership research projects aligned to societal needs (<https://www1.bournemouth.ac.uk/about/our-faculties/faculty-health-social-sciences/public-involvement-education-research/pier-news>)

LEARNING HOURS AND ASSESSMENT

Bournemouth University taught programmes are composed of units of study, which are assigned a credit value indicating the amount of learning undertaken. The minimum credit value of a unit is normally 20 credits, above which credit values normally increase at 20-point intervals. 20 credits is the equivalent of 200 study hours required of the student, including lectures, seminars, assessment and independent study. 20 University credits are equivalent to 10 European Credit Transfer System (ECTS) credits.

The assessment workload for a unit should consider the total time devoted to study, including the assessment workload (i.e. formative and summative assessment) and the taught elements and independent study workload (i.e. lectures, seminars, preparatory work, practical activities, reading, critical reflection).

Assessment per 20 credit unit should normally consist of 3,000 words or equivalent. Dissertations and Level 6 and 7 Final Projects are distinct from other assessment types. The word count for these assignments is 5,000 words per 20 credits, recognising that undertaking an in-depth piece of original research as the capstone to a degree is pedagogically sound.

Programme Specification - Section 2

Practice Learning Placements are mandatory, and the specified number of days are mandatory. 'It is expected that the student will work 'full time', which is the equivalent of 35 hours per week / 7-hour day with at least half an hour lunch break (not included), for example 9am – 4.30pm. The student is required to take 3 ½ hours study time every five days of placement (or 7 hours every 10 days). In a 70-day placement therefore, the student is entitled to take 7 study days (or 14 half days). These should be negotiated with the Practice Educator and placement and should be booked in advance. Study time cannot be accumulated beyond one day per 10 days. All hours of work should be recorded and verified by the Practice Educator. Student recall days to the University count as part of the 70 days and must be attended.' (Extract from Practice Learning Handbook 2018).

STAFF DELIVERING THE PROGRAMME

Students will usually be taught by a combination of senior academic staff with others who have relevant expertise including – where appropriate according to the content of the unit – academic staff, qualified professional practitioners and service users and carers. For information about staff involved in supporting and assessing Practice Learning see the section Placement Elements.

PLACEMENT ELEMENTS

Practice Learning in the MA Social Work

Practice learning is central to the qualifying social work programme at BU and is mandatory. Developing evidenced based practice is integral to all academic and practice-based units. The programme has been designed to enable students to develop autonomous thought, critical reflection, professional competence, skills and values; and approaches to learning which value the expertise of people with first-hand experience. Practice learning opportunities within the programme offer opportunities for students to meet new challenges, work in a diverse range of organisations and settings and to effectively apply knowledge from one situation or setting to another. Through this process they are supported to develop personally and professionally and to become competent practitioners ready to undertake employment in an increasingly complex workplace.

Practice learning at BU is guided by the recommendations of the British Association of Social Work and the requirements of the Social Work England. Students spend at least 170 days gaining required experience and learning in practice settings and 30 days focusing on skill development.

Each student will have experience:

- in at least two practice settings.
- of statutory social work tasks involving legal interventions.
- in applying knowledge from one situation or setting to another.
- of managing risk and complexity.

Readiness to undertake direct practice

All students will undergo assessed preparation for direct practice to ensure their safety to undertake practice learning in a service-delivery setting. Our focus is both on supporting students to prepare for effective practice learning and evidenced based practice and to assess their readiness. Preparation and assessment include opportunities to develop a greater understanding of the experience of service users; to develop and practise skills and to shadow a qualified social worker.

Strengths of practice learning at BU

Practice learning is a key strength of the BU Social Work programmes due to:

- The reputation of the Social Work programme in the region.
- Guaranteed final placement for students within a statutory social work team.

Programme Specification - Section 2

- The partnerships we have developed with local authorities.
- The partnerships we have developed with a large range of IVP sector agencies.
- Involvement and contributions of the BU PIER (Public Involvement in Education and Research) partnership in the assessment of student's practice (specifically role plays as part of readiness for direct practice an assessed presentation in both substantive placements).
- The expertise, experience and knowledge of the Practice Learning Team enhanced through national involvement and published research into practice learning and pedagogy.
- Integration of practice issues and evidenced based practice in all university and practice-based units.
- A dedicated placement coordinator who works to support existing placements, networks and partnerships and in actively exploring new opportunities and partnerships.
- Support and CPD opportunities to all placement supervisors and practice educators through regular link days, placement supervisor courses, safeguarding and child protection training and regional CPD days delivered in collaboration with the Practice Educator Learning Partnership (PELP).
- A team of practice tutors who provide links, support and quality assurance of placements through direct contact with students, placements and Practice educators.

The pattern of practice learning in agencies for MA Social work students:

In semester one student's complete preparation to undertake practice learning and assessment of their readiness.

In semester two of the programme students complete a 70-day placement in accordance with the recommendations of the Social Work England. Placements are found, allocated and supported by the University.

In year two students will complete a further 100-day placement. Again, these placements will be found, allocated and supported by the University.

Current partnership arrangements will be built on and extended, both locally and regionally, to ensure an appropriate range of practice learning opportunities are available to meet the regulatory body requirements, including opportunities in statutory social services departments, education welfare, youth offending teams, community projects, supported housing projects, and in a diverse range of voluntary and independent agencies. Opportunities for practice learning in organisations such as the Youth Service, Schools, Primary Care Trusts, Health Care Trusts and Probation will continue to be explored.

Bournemouth University have a number of offsite qualified practice educators who work with the programme. Bournemouth University have maintained high quality practice education by only using qualified practice educators in all placements and in providing regular link days and placement supervisor workshops for participating placement staff and Practice Educators and by contributing to regional PE learning partnership network events.

Placement Process

The processes developed for finding, quality assuring, matching, allocating, tracking, monitoring and evaluation of placements will ensure that students meet the Department of Health Requirements in terms of days, statutory interventions, client groups and learning opportunities. A Practice Allocation Panel meeting is held to allocate all placements, and this includes representation from local stakeholders. Placements are then monitored, and quality assured by placement tutors providing the link between placements, students and the practice learning team during the placement period in addition to a series of link days for placement supervisors and practice educators and recall days for students. Evaluation of placements is also ensured through feedback forms completed by students, practice educators and placement supervisors. Any issues are reviewed by the university-based practice teaching staff.

There may be circumstances when a student may need to have an extension to their placement period. This will be organised by the Practice Learning Team in consultation with the placement and the student.

Programme Specification - Section 2

It is an expectation of the programme that in practice settings students will be seen as supernumerary to the staff team and, as such, will be entitled to a specified amount of 'study time', in order to reflect on and analyse their practice learning.

All Practice Educators used at both first and final substantive placements are qualified (or in training). Support is provided in collaboration with stakeholders through the PE learning partnership to ensure that all PE's meet the Practice Educator Professional Standards (PEPS). A programme of link days (six per year); placement supervisor workshops (two per year) and regional practice learning workshops (three per year) are provided by the university and our local authority partners to enable PE's to achieve and maintain these standard
